

Academic English at Drew University

Study on a beautiful, safe campus near New York City

Experience the best of American university life in a program designed for professional, personal or academic English learning. Located in beautiful Madison, New Jersey, this safe community is just 47 minutes by direct train to New York City. Students will meet and live with American students and will learn all about American life. They will participate in university events and enjoy nearby New York with excursions to the city.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The Academic English (AE) program is composed of 20 hours per week during the academic year (fall and spring semesters) and 25 hours per week during summer semester. In addition to in-class learning, students will engage in trips to New York City where they will apply what they've learned.

WHY STUDY ENGLISH AT DREW UNIVERSITY?

Students will learn to:

- Understand the main points in English language readings well enough to talk about them afterward
- Effectively use English in personal and professional settings and situations
- Write cohesively and coherently in English, using facts to support an opinion

Students will also enjoy:

- Small class sizes taught by supportive English language instructors
- Access to all campus facilities, including the recreation center, pool, library, sporting events and activities
